

FARMERS PLEASED WITH WORK OF AGENT KEARNEY

FARM BUREAU MEETING ATTENDED BY OVER 100 FARMERS WHO LISTEN WITH INTEREST TO ANNUAL REPORTS

GEARHART HEADS ORGANIZATION

The annual meeting of the Clearfield county farm bureau was held in the Arbitration room on Thursday and about one hundred and twenty-five of the successful farmers of the county attended the different sessions and participated in the discussions attendant upon the transaction of the business of the farm bureau.

President Peter Gearhart, of Lawrence township presided and much business of interest to the farmers of the county was transacted.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30, one hundred and seventeen members answering the roll call.

The report of County Farm Agent Kearney took up the major portion of the morning session. The report carefully and comprehensively outlined the activities of the county farm agent during the year and showed much good work accomplished.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $905.15 in the treasury.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President—Peter Gearhart, Clearfield.

Vice Presidents: Harrison Straw, of Goshen; W. B. Stephenson, Mahaffey; F. B. Lee, Penfield; W. T. Thorpe, Grampan; A. T. Bell, Mahaffey.

Secretary: T. L. Wall, Clearfield.

Treasurer: E. E. Weber, DuBois.

Executive committee: G. B. Wachob, DuBois; T. L. Way, Curwensville; A. H. Read, Clearfield; C. H. Goodlander, and W. P. Wingert, of Luthersburg.

Five minute talks were then given on the following subjects:

Cooperative purchasing and marketing.

Better roads.

Pure bred livestock.

Silage corn varieties for Clearfield.

Pasture as a factor in economical work production.

The afternoon session was devoted to an address on "Essentials in Farm Bureau Work" by H. S. Adams and "The Future of Clearfield County Agriculture" by Dean R. L. Watts, of State College, himself a product of a Clearfield county farm.

In his address on the "Essentials in Farm Bureau Work" H. S. Adams emphasized the necessity of a Farm Bureau program being adapted to the needs of the county. He also stated that this program should be outlined by the executive committee as they were best qualified to determine the important agricultural problems, such a program should help solve. Mr. Adams stated that without the active support and co-operation of all the farmers throughout the county, no program of work would be effective. Mr. Adams stated that farming must be put on a satisfactory basis financially before the conditions of home-life on the farm could be materially improved.

Dean Watts stated that the war had taught our people the importance of Science and that farmers everywhere were learning to appreciate the necessity of scientific production and distribution. He stated that during the last year of the war, American farmers had produced more food than during any year previous. At the time the armistice was signed there was at least 3 months' food supply in France. Dean Watts stated that the "back to the land movement" had never existed in fact and that more efficient methods of production would be necessary on farms now under cultivation in order to provide for our rapidly increasing population.

Coblenz, Feb. 4.—By Mail.—The Americanization of the villages and towns in the occupied area is in full swing, aided by the powerful influence of the doughboy's plentiful supply of marks and pennings. Every store and shop shows evidence of the American occupation and the desire of the proprietor thereof to acquire the mark and pennings by catering to His Majesty, the American doughboy.

BUSH BROWN MAKES SENSATIONAL TRY TO BREAK JAIL

William Bush Brown, the colored murderer, recently sentenced to electrocution by Judge Corbett was discovered this morning in an attempt to break jail.

Brown, since his sentence, has been confined in a cell on the ground floor. Securing two table knives and taking the braces from his cot he fashioned the articles into tools with which he hoped to dig through the walls to safety. He made a saw out of one of the knives and twisting the other braces together developed a handy little digger.

He attacked the wall alongside the door at the front of the cell and when removed to other quarters this morning it was discovered that he had made a fair start toward liberty.

Brown had no doubt been at work for some time as he had dug a hole into the wall about eighteen inches above the floor which extended to a depth of six inches below the floor of the corridor and was two feet across and about six or eight inches from the surface.

He did the work at night and hid the bricks he removed from the inside wall under his cot, while the plaster and cement removed was hid in two pillow slips on the bed.

Sheriff Gorman is away on a trip to the far west for a prisoner, while Deputy Gilliland is attending the funeral of a relative and Brown no doubt thought this the proper time to attempt to get away. He was discovered at work at 4:30 o'clock this morning and allowed to continue until daylight when he put away his tools and went to bed.

Probation Officer Leavy, Chief Eadie and Officer Carlson were apprised of the situation this morning and they went down to the jail about 9:30 o'clock and removing Brown from his cell put the leg irons on him.

Chief Eadie asked Brown what he meant and the poor devil replied "Man I tell you a fellow in my predicament would do anything." When the leg irons were locked in place he said "You'll sure have me tight enough now."

It was announced that his temperature was practically normal.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Rumors were being circulated in Paris today that several plots had been unearthed in Switzerland, regarded as the headquarters of pro-German conspiracies, in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau. One report is that he radicals had planned to assassinate both Clemenceau and President Wilson but that none of the conspirators succeeded in getting into France owing to the vigilance of the police.

MALCOLM MACFARLANE RESIGNS HIS POSITION

Malcolm Macfarlane who has been associated with the Madeira-Hill Coal Mining company interests in this section since 1917, has resigned his position to take effect March 1st. Prior to his connection with the Madeira-Hill company Mr. Macfarlane was coal inspector for the New York Central Railroad company, succeeding H. B. Douglas, and because he is one of our progressive, public spirited citizens, ever ready to lend a willing hand to any movement for community improvement we trust that his future plans will not make it necessary for him and his excellent family to locate elsewhere.—Phillipsburg Journal.

ATTA BOY

The war gardens of 1917 and 1918 will be the Victory Gardens of 1919. The editor of this paper had about made up his mind to let up on the enjoyable pastime of gardening the coming season, but has thought better of it and will get behind the hoe to prune the weeds in the "Irish" apple district on our little old back lot. We hope all The Progress readers will be with us in the coming season's work. The more, the merrier.

10,000,000 "VICTORY GARDENS!"

The United States had 5,285,000 war gardens in 1918. It should have 10,000,000 "Victory Gardens" in 1919, for there are more millions of people than ever to be fed and Uncle Sam must become the Joseph of the Modern World, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington. This nation has never fallen down on any task it set out to accomplish. It must now win the world war for food, and the home food producers will have a big part in this harvest of victory. Begin by writing to the Commission for a free garden book which will be sent to any reader of this paper. Enclose a two cent stamp for postage.

Just because the war is over is no reason why the gardeners of this country should think their big job is done. In reality the enormous task of feeding the millions of hungry people released from the Huns, and the other millions of war-stricken countries is just now beginning. The world shortage of food is appalling. Thus, it is "up to us," fellow gardener, to put more vim than ever into our garden efforts in 1919.

Let us grow the staple crops in larger quantities and thus release more food for foreign shipment. Perhaps we can grow a few extra potatoes or beans for one of our own wounded veterans. When the boys come home we shall be more than glad to share with them the best that the garden produces. So plan now for a larger garden, use every foot available and help drive famine from the world.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Soldiers and sailors should zealously protect their rights along the line of government insurance after they are discharged from the service. It has come to our notice that many are not availing themselves of the benefits to be derived from this insurance. One of the insurance firms of the city is advertising the fact that advice will be freely and gladly given to anyone along this line and it is an offer that should be accepted by those who have been discharged by the government. It should be emphatically understood that this advice and knowledge is given free and without any obligation to any person and is given with the sole idea of being of some service to those who have served their country. Often times the soldier or sailor is rather backward about taking care of these matters and in this event it behooves his parents, his brothers and sisters or his friends to look after these matters for him or at least bring them to his attention.

ROAD BUILDING

GOOD ROADS 1919 PROGRAM

Michigan Starting on Greatest Era of Highway Construction in History of State.

Michigan is going to put on the greatest era of road building in the state's history, declares Edward N. Hines, first vice president of the Detroit Automobile club. Mr. Hines adds that Michigan highway constructors have seen the folly of their ways in building roads too narrow and of types not permanent. They will correct this in the future.

Every citizen, including the farmer, business man, laboring man and the resident of the small town, sees the need of permanent highways, the case being no over to them by wartime conditions according to Mr. Hines. This was brought about by the inadequate freight and express service, the food situation and the general need to conserve labor wherever feasible.

"Had the war continued," Mr. Hines stated, "I had records of projects for building of concrete roads in the state that likely would have been put through by the proper authorities in Washington because of their necessity, there being some 650,000 square yards. Other projects for concrete roads in Michigan financed by the Covert act whose issues were sold and the money not expended during the past season, and direct tax has amounted to 1,347,000 square yards, a total for the state of close to 2,000,000 square yards. All of this will be built in 1919 and in all probability this percentage will be doubled by the time the road construction work begins in the spring.

"Wayne county's concrete roads have stood the test since the United States entered the world conflict. The normal traffic, plus the enormous war haulage by army trucks over concrete roads seven, eight, nine and ten years old, was handled satisfactorily and the highways held up in perfect condition. Eyes of the road builders throughout the county have been focused on Wayne county's roads and the practical demonstration of the value of permanent roads has been proven here in the vicinity of Detroit.

"Wayne, leader among the counties of Michigan in mileage of improved roads, asked for no county road tax this year and will have to rely on the money received from automobile license. Consequently 1919 will not approximate previous years' programs because of lack of funds to push the work to the limit. We expect to get more for a dollar in 1919, though, as the labor turnover will not be as great and material prices will have a tendency not to incline towards higher levels.

"Among the projects which will be carried out next year are the following: One-half mile section in the village of Wayne from Michigan avenue on the Wayne road south, connecting with the Huron river drive. This road will be of concrete, 20 feet wide. Belle Isle-Romulus branch of the Huron river drive and Outer Belt drive is to be finished. Delivery of stock on this job has already been started and will be kept up as long as good weather continues. Warren road, which will be completed to the Washtenaw county line in time, is to be taken care of by another road crew. This work will go on until the 1919 funds are exhausted. The Lahser road, from Redford north to the Oakland line, connecting with the good road in Oakland county, will also be completed.

We will pay considerable attention to widening some of the main routes and will maintain all the previous built roads in a first class condition.

Public Necessity
Good roads are a public necessity and there is no use trying to stop people from using them. The fact is that the more roads there are, the more people will use them.

What Poor Roads Mean

At the present time, the roads in this state are in a very poor condition. This is due to the fact that the state has not been able to raise enough money to build new roads or to maintain the old ones. The result is that the roads are in a very poor condition and this is a great disadvantage to the state.

INCREASING DEMAND FOR TIMBER OF ELM

Total Stand Placed at Approximately 7 1/2 Billion Feet

Wood is Desirable Where Strength, Bending Quality and Ability to Withstand Shock Are Concerned—Takes Good Polish.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Elm timber growing in the farm wood lot is a valuable asset.

The demand for elm is increasing, while the supply is rapidly diminishing. It is estimated that the total stand of elm in the United States is approximately 7 1/2 billion feet. This amount would furnish a supply for approximately 30 years at the present rate of cutting, as the annual output of elm lumber is about 24,000,000 board feet, placing elm twelfth in rank among all woods and tenth among hardwoods in point of lumber production.

Elm wood is desirable where strength, bending quality and ability to withstand shocks are required. It is, in general, heavy, hard and strong. The most important use to which it is put, according to the bulletin, is in the cooperage industry, the amount credited to this use being more than twice that of the next in importance, which is in the manufacture of barrels and crates. It is estimated that 147,000,000 board feet are used annually in making cooperage stock or barrels.

Elm is used extensively in making agricultural implements and vehicles also. It is useful in the manufacture of wheels and bodies for automobiles, and the rapid growth of this industry has brought about a considerable increase in the demand for elm. Its ability to take a good polish makes it desirable in the manufacture of certain pieces of furniture, cabinet work and interior trimmings. It is a fairly durable wood the average untreated lumber in situations exposed to weather lasting six to eight years. When properly treated with creosote this period may be lengthened to 20 or more years.

RAISE MORE HOGS FOR MEAT

No Farm Is Complete Without Swine to Assist in Modern Methods of Farming.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Meat for the nation and profits for the farmer can be increased by raising hogs. No farm is complete unless some are kept to aid in the modern method of farming. Swine multiply more rapidly than other farm animals and make greater gains per hundred pounds of concentrated feed consumed.

As a consumer of by-products the hog has no rival.

Hogs might be kept profitably upon a number of farms where they are not found today. As a general proposition, it is safer for the average farmer to handle a small number of hogs in connection with his other farm business.

As much feed as possible for hogs should be raised on the farm, no more feed than is absolutely necessary should be purchased.

Hogs weighing from 200 to 300 pounds are in greatest demand on the market and usually the greatest profit is obtained from selling hogs at these weights. The price realized depends upon the kind of carcass the hog will yield.

RUSSIAN THISTLE OF VALUE

Once Considered Noxious Weed—Now Used for Wintering Stock in New Mexico.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

The Russian thistle, considered one of the most noxious weeds in New Mexico, is now declared by many stockmen in that section to be of value as a stock feed. Some farmers in Santa Fe county already have put up large quantities of this weed for wintering stock. Its value as a feed was discovered during the first two years of drought when it was the only thing that stood between the live stock of the region and starvation. The county agricultural agent of Santa Fe county is urging the building of silos to be filled with Russian thistle, which it is reported, makes excellent silage.

More Mexican efforts on behalf of the Red Cross are being made. A recent $200,000 was collected in Mexico for the native land.

Walter Broome of Brookville transacted business in town today.

C. E. Patton, of Harrisburg, was called here today by the serious illness of his brother in law C. S. Russell.

Articles of incorporation have been filed at Hartford, Conn., by three Meriden, Conn., business men, one of whom is Wayne Robinson, a former Curwensville boy. The corporation is for new road construction and has an authorized capital stock of $50,000. Mr. Robinson has been elected because of both his knowledge and practical experience in that line of work. His many friends here wish him unbounded success with his new work.

"Surprise" parties are quite the proper thing now. A number of the young friends of Miss Edith Sawtelle gave that young lady quite a pleasant surprise last evening at her home on Filbert street. A very enjoyable time was spent with games and music. Delicious refreshments were served.

E. W. Hess, of Clearfield, was a business visitor in town today.

D. P. Wall, of George street, is on the sick list this week.

As far as the office team is concerned, the less said about the game they bowled with the superintendent's team last night the better. This makes the third successive game which the former champion team has handed over and they are starting to wonder if it's never going to stop.

HER PERSISTENCY WON THE VICTORY

Mrs. Davis Ann, 285 N. Colorado St., Philadelphia, tells how she won a victory in her persistence in the use of Tanlac. "I suffered from nervousness, indigestion and liver trouble," she says. "A lot of doctors and a lot of pills from water brash and heartburn. I heard of Tanlac and now I feel a lot better since persisting with Tanlac. I recommend Tanlac because it cures the nervousness, indigestion and liver trouble. The genuine J. L. Davis Co. Tanlac is now sold here by Stewart Drug Co. and Woodward & Lothrop."

NOW WHAT ON EARTH WOULD A DOUGHBOY WANT WITH "EM"

an unexpected windfall. At the outbreak of the war he had on hand a large stock of the flags of all nations, including several hundred American flags, which he had been selling to restaurant keepers to decorate tourist tables. Upon his return home after demobilization this canny shopkeeper soon found that he could sell the American flags to truckdrivers to decorate their motor trucks. His stock was soon exhausted.

German shopkeepers are amazed at the strange wants of the American souvenir hunters. For instance, they cannot understand why husky dough boys want women's paper corsets, substitutes for shoes manufactured with wooden soles and cloth or paper uppers, paper tablecloths, paper bed sheets and the hundred and one substitutes which the shops have on sale.

One doughboy upset the routine of one of the big stores by trying to buy a suit of women's paper underwear. With a half-dozen words of German and a wealth of appropriate gestures he vainly tried to put over the idea. The whole staff of the store was gathered to watch his antics when a German-speaking soldier entered and came to his aid. The amazement of the crowd was undisguised, but he got the underwear.

Another soldier left a trail of wonderment when he entered a millinery store and came away with one of the women's hats that had been displayed in the window. He explained he wanted to send it to his sister.

Despite their mystification at the needs of the American doughboy, the shopkeepers are rapidly adapting themselves to the new order of things and proving that the trade follows the mark and the pennings, regardless of color of the flag under which it comes.

WHITE HOUSE BEING PUT IN READINESS FOR THE PRESIDENT

By United Press

Washington Feb. 18.—Everything at the White House has been put in tip-top shape for the return of President and Mrs. Wilson.

Although spring isn't here yet, the executive mansion has had its spring house cleaning from top to bottom, and considerable renovating has been done, for the historic house is beginning to show its age. War times have caused the appearance of the President's home to be neglected, and many buckets of paint have been used to keep up the custom, made necessary by our friends, the British, or keeping the White House white.

In the interior of the building, the historic color schemes, such as the blue and the green rooms have not been changed, but just here and there touches have been made to cover up the marks of time. Indicating that President and Mrs. Wilson are planning to resume White House social life, considerable work has been done on the big ball room. The floor has been refinished, new draperies hung, the gold piano "touched up" and tuned and the gorgeous tapestry presented a few months ago by the French government put in place.

Indications also are that the big state dining room, with its Roosevelt trophies of animal heads around the walls once more will be a gathering place of international and national notables. Large tables are ready for it in place of the small one Mrs. Wilson placed there during the war. China fanciers are praising the design Mrs. Wilson selected for the china of the President's room. The dishes have the President's seal in gold in the center with a thin gold band of 48-tons around the edge.

The private apartments of the President have been brightened up. Many of the gifts foreign nations have bestowed on the President will be used to adorn the White House, it is believed, taking places alongside historic gifts and furniture of Washington, Lafayette, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt.

The executive offices have not been forgotten in the cleanup, and the President's office, cabinet room and the offices of Secretary Tamm have received coats of light green and white paint throughout. Even the press room has received its share.

Two chairs are ready for the cabinetroom, for, following custom, each cabinet member takes his chair with him when he resigns. McAdoo has taken his, and the other new chair is to take the place of the one Attorney-General regory will carry away when he steps out, March 4.

ACCOUNTANTS AND AUDITORS NEEDED BY GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—The government has some big tasks in accounting and auditing on its hands as a result of the war, and is willing to pay good salaries to men and women who are qualified to perform them.

The Income Tax Unit of the bureau of Internal Revenue, treasury department, is in urgent need of 350 traveling auditors and resident auditors for the higher-grade positions, which pay entrance salaries from $3,000 to $4,500 a year.

The Ordnance department of the army needs at once 250 senior cost accountants at entrance salaries from $2,200 to $4,200 a year and 250 junior cost accountants at $1,200 to $2,000 a year.

The Interstate Commerce commission wants 50 examiners of accounts. These are usually appointed at entrance salaries from $1,800 to $2,100 a year the higher-salaried positions, paying from $2,200 to $3,000 a year or more, being filled as a rule by promotion.

All of these positions are open to both men and women, except positions of examiner of accounts in the Interstate Commerce commission, which are open to men only.

The United States Civil Service commission will receive applications for these positions at any time until further notice. Full information and application blanks may be obtained by calling upon the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the customhouse or post office in any important city, or by communicating with the United States Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C.

Applicants will not be assembled for a written examination but will be rated upon their sworn statements in their applications as to education, experience etc., and upon corroborative evidence adduced by the Civil Service commission.

In the latter half of the seventeenth century the greater part of Europe was governed by women. England was ruled by Elizabeth. Scotland by Mary Stuart. Portugal by the infant daughter of Eleanor. Navarre by Queen Jane. Spain by Isabella of Castile and France by Catherine de Medicis.

QUACK, QUACK, QUACK!

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 18.—Ben Woolner, former city attorney, is being sought out by many hunters who wish to inspect his "duckwerfer."

Woolner claims to have originated a method for attracting wild ducks. He allowed a duck to dictate into his phonograph dictating machine, and then installed the machine with its new record near his post in the marsh.

Wild ducks mobilized from all points of the compass when Woolner's duck began squawking and Woolner claims to have shot the legal limit in 15 minutes.

Celery King When Feverish

Don't make the mistake of bothering with uncertain remedies for Celery King a purely vegetable formula made into a palatable tea is nature's best remedy for constipation, upset stomach, coated tongue and sick headache. 2% on Sales 11% on Investment

Isn't this a reasonable profit?

It is what Swift & Company earned in 1918.

2 cents on each dollar of sales—only a fraction of a cent per pound—was too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

11% on investment (capital and surplus) means only fair returns to the 25,000 shareholders; they received 8% dividends in 1918.

The 1918 earnings of Swift & Company were equivalent to a profit of only

$212 on Sales of $12,000

Would you be content with that margin of profit in your business?

This and many other interesting and instructive facts are shown in our 1919 Year Book, which will be sent on request. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford truck is really a greater necessity to the farmer than is a team of horses. Certainly it is a greater utility and economy for him. It saves time, it gives prompt and almost unlimited service along the entire line of farm work from carrying milk to marketing the products of the farm. It is not expensive to maintain and has all the Ford simplicity in mechanism that makes it easy to operate. The price, too, is attractive, about the price of a team of horses; $550, without body. f. o. b. Detroit.

Novel Scheme Being Carried Out in Nebraska Community—Demand Bigger Than Supply.

A scheme to utilize a part of the sorghum crop for making a sugar substitute for human food is being carried out in Douglas county, Nebraska. In one community, through the efforts of the local county agent, six farmers co-operated in purchasing a small

The Order Has Been Given

All Winter Goods Must Go

Quite time, there will be two or three months in which we will have intense cold weather, and as a matter of fact, winter clothes will be very much in demand. Nevertheless, certain merchandising rules which we follow invariably, compel us to close out all winter stocks at once. And so the clean up prices are now in full force. We aim to make the clean-up quick, positive and sure. These items give evidence of that.

This Sale of Winter Suits and Coats Has Now Reached A Climax

This is the last sale of Winter suits and coats we will announce this season. As a matter of fact, we don't expect any of them to be on hand by next Saturday night.

We say this sale of coats and suits has reached a climax for the simple reason that there is only a limited number on hand to choose from, that the values are by far the greatest we have offered in months and months, and, most important of all, we have again reduced the prices of practically every garment involved, so as to insure absolute and final sale before the store closes on Saturday.

We have also reached the climax of value-giving, for these garments even at this stage of the season could not be bought at wholesale houses at the prices which now rule.

Skillfully tailored and correctly fashioned, these are suits and coats that you would gladly pay regular price for, even now, if you desire to purchase one.

FARMERS PLEASED WITH WORK OF AGENT KEARNEY

FARM BUREAU MEETING ATTENDED BY OVER 100 FARMERS WHO LISTEN WITH INTEREST TO ANNUAL REPORTS

GEARHART HEADS ORGANIZATION

The annual meeting of the Clearfield county farm bureau was held in the Arbitration room on Thursday and about one hundred and twenty-five of the successful farmers of the county attended the different sessions and participated in the discussions attendant upon the transaction of the business of the farm bureau.

President Peter Gearhart, of Lawrence township presided and much business of interest to the farmers of the county was transacted.

The meeting was called to order at 10:30, one hundred and seventeen members answering the roll call. The report of County Farm Agent Kearney took up the major portion of the morning session. The report carefully and comprehensively outlined the activities of the county farm agent during the year and showed much good work accomplished.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $905.15 in the treasury.

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President—Peter Gearhart, Clearfield.

Vice Presidents: Harrison Straw, of Goshen; W. B. Stephenson, Mahafey; F. B. Lee, Penfield; W. T. Thorpe, Grampan; A. T. Bell, Mahafey. Secretary: T. L. Wall, Clearfield.

Treasurer: E. E. Weber, DuBois.

Executive committee: G. B. Wachob, DuBois; T. L. Way, Curwensville; A. H. Read, Clearfield; C. H. Goodlander and W. P. Wingert, of Luthersburg. Five minute talks were then given on the following subjects:

Cooperative purchasing and marketing.

Better roads.

Pure bred livestock.

Silage corn varieties for Clearfield county.

Pasture as a factor in economical work production.

The afternoon session was devoted to an address on "Essentials in Farm Bureau Work" by H. S. Adams and "The Future of Clearfield County Agriculture" by Dean R. L. Watts, of State College, himself a product of a Clearfield county farm.

In his address on the "Essentials in Farm Bureau Work" H. S. Adams emphasized the necessity of a Farm Bureau program being adapted to the needs of the county. He also stated that this program should be outlined by the executive committee as they were best qualified to determine the important agricultural problems, such a program should help solve. Mr. Adams stated that without the active support and co-operation of all the farmers throughout the county, no program of work would be effective. Mr. Adams stated that farming must be put on a satisfactory basis financially before the conditions of home-life on the farm could be materially improved.

Dean Watts stated that the war had taught our people the importance of Science and that farmers everywhere were learning to appreciate the necessity of scientific production and distribution. He stated that during the last year of the war, American farmers had produced more food than during any year previous. At the time the armistice was signed there was at least 3 months' food supply in France. Dean Watts stated that the "back to the land movement" had never existed in fact and that more efficient methods of production would be necessary on farms now under cultivation in order to provide for our rapidly increasing population.

ON HIS WEARY WAY

NOW WHAT ON EARTH WOULD A DOUGHBOY WANT WITH "EM"

(By United Press)

Coblenz, Feb. 4.—By Mail.—The Americanization of the villages and towns in the occupied area is in full swing, aided by the powerful influence of the doughboy's plentiful supply of marks and pennings. Every store and shop shows evidence of the American occupation and the desire of the proprietor thereof to acquire the mark and pennings by catering to His Majesty, the American doughboy.

Within a few days after entrance of American troops the more progressive stores blossomed out with signs English and cards announcing that "American is spoken here." The postcard photographers began to reap a harvest snapping American soldiers. Their windows are filled with sample photographs of Americans ranging alongside of the old stock of frowning German colonels and grinning German soldiers posed with their rifles held stiffly at attention. One business college has started a course in English, plastering the town of Coblenz with advertising offering to teach English in three weeks. Before the regulation prohibiting sale of liquor cafe-owners discovered the peculiarities of the American palate and were advertising Manhattan and Bronx cocktails and a concoction labeled "Pershing cocktail" on the same menu with "Hindenburg Punch."

The astute German business man soon discovered the overpowering desire of the Americans for souvenirs, and several new souvenir shops were opened advertising "Souvenir of the War," and selling cheap jewelry with the Iron Cross design and the German imperial coat of arms. The postcard shops, which have been in hard luck since the flocks of tourists ceased junketing up and down the Rhine, began to do a handoff business.

The German military tailors in Coblenz who were in the depths of black despair when the German army withdrew, perked up when they found they could sell their stocks of gaudy helmets and military insignia to Americans for twice the market price. Some of them advertise to make American uniforms if the cloth is furnished.

Many of the restaurants are printing their menus partly in English and specializing in American dishes, and several even advertise "American ice cream," which, although expensive,

They were: Samuel Cruikshank, Donald Robison, Lloyd Rishel, Harry Hudson and Albert Schenawerth. The house was suitably decorated with flags and bunting. There were about fifty young folks present and the evening was spent playing games and with music. After a very pleasant evening refreshments were served.

is passably good. When the order came that troops attached to the Third army must wear an insignia consisting of little concentric circles in red, white and blue around the letter "A" the German tailors got busy and within a day or two were displaying samples of the army insignia.

BUSH BROWN MAKES SENSATIONAL TRY TO BREAK JAIL

William Bush Brown, the colored murderer, recently sentenced to electrocution by Judge Corbett was discovered this morning in an attempt to break jail.

Brown, since his sentence, has been confined in a cell on the ground floor. Securing two table knives and taking the braces from his cot he fashioned the articles into tools with which he hoped to dig through the walls to safety. He made a saw out of one of the knives and twisting the other braces together developed a handy little digger.

He attacked the wall alongside the door at the front of the cell and when removed to other quarters this morning it was discovered that he had made a fair start toward liberty.

Brown had no doubt been at work for some time as he had dug a hole into the wall about eighteen inches above the floor which extended to a depth of six inches below the floor of the corridor and was two feet across and about six or eight inches from the surface.

He did the work at night and hid the bricks he removed from the inside wall under his cot, while the plaster and cement removed was hid in two pillow slips on the bed.

Sheriff Gorman is away on a trip to the far west for a prisoner, while Deputy Gilliland is attending the funeral of a relative and Brown no doubt thought this the proper time to attempt to get away. He was discovered at work at 4:30 o'clock this morning and allowed to continue until daylight when he put away his tools and went to bed.

Probation Officer Leavy, Chief Eadie and Officer Carlson were apprised of the situation this morning and they went down to the jail about 9:30 o'clock and removing Brown from his cell put the leg irons on him.

Chief Eadie asked Brown what he meant and the poor devil replied "Man I tell you a fellow in my predicament would do anything." When the leg irons were locked in place he said "You'll sure have me tight enough now."

"Nearer My God, to Thee," probably the best known of all hymns, was written by a woman, Sarah Florence Adams.

SUPREME WAR COUNCIL TO MEET AT PREMIER'S HOME

AGED "TIGER" IMPROVING AND WILL BE OUT OF DANGER WITHIN FORTY-EIGHT HOURS SAYS LATEST BULLETIN

UNEARTH PLOTS OF THE ASSASSINS

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The meeting of the Supreme War Council scheduled for late this afternoon will be held at the residence of Premier Clemenceau, it was announced today. This is taken as an indication that the condition of the Premier is steadily improving and entirely satisfactory to his physicians.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Premier Clemenceau, shot by an assassin Tuesday, will be out of danger within forty-eight hours, it was announced today. "I am very optimistic of my ability to return to work in four or five days," he told President Poincare yesterday. It was announced at the Premier's residence that he was getting along as well as possible. He was out on the balcony for a while yesterday afternoon, and, considering the relative gravity of his wound his condition was regarded as highly satisfactory. It was announced that his temperature was practically normal.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—Rumors were being circulated in Paris today that several plots had been unearthed in Switzerland, regarded as the headquarters of pro-German conspiracies, in connection with the attack on Premier Clemenceau. One report is that he radicals had planned to assassinate both Clemenceau and President Wilson but that none of the conspirators succeeded in getting into France owing to the vigilance of the police.

COURT BARS LIQUOR FROM MICHIGAN

TOLEDO, OHIO, Feb. 21.—Carrying into Michigan of liquor was stopped today when Judge Root granted an injunction in the Circuit Court enjoining every person from bringing liquor into Michigan. It was granted on the grounds that it is against the constitution and the dry laws of the State. The injunction was asked for by Attorney General Alex. Brosbeck.

STRIKES AND TROUBLES ON INCREASE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Strikes and labor troubles are now breaking out throughout the country, the labor department reports. It was stated that thousands of men want work who cannot get it because of the general stagnation of industry. Government officials, including Secretary Wilson, admit that the situation is fast becoming critical and is more serious than anything in the nation's history.

THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 20, 1919.

ATTA BOY

The war gardens of 1917 and 1918 will be the Victory Gardens of 1919. The editor of this paper had about made up his mind to let up on the enjoyable pastime of gardening the coming season, but has thought better of it and will get behind the hoe to prune the weeds in the "Irish" apple district on our little old back lot. We hope all The Progress readers will be with us in the coming season's work. The more, the merrier.

10,000,000 "VICTORY GARDENS!"

The United States had 5,285,000 war gardens in 1918. It should have 10,000,000 "Victory Gardens" in 1919, for there are more millions of people than ever to be fed and Uncle Sam must become the Joseph of the Modern World, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington. This nation has never fallen down on any task it set out to accomplish. It must now win the world war for food, and the home food producers will have a big part in this harvest of victory. Begin by writing to the Commission for a free garden book which will be sent to any reader of this paper. Enclose a two cent stamp for postage.

Just because the war is over is no reason why the gardeners of this country should think their big job is done. In reality the enormous task of feeding the millions of hungry people released from the Huns, and the other millions of war-stricken countries is just now beginning. The world shortage of food is appalling. Thus, it is "up to us," fellow gardener, to put more vim than ever into our garden efforts in 1919.

Let us grow the staple crops in larger quantities and thus release more food for foreign shipment. Perhaps we can grow a few extra potatoes or beans for one of our own wounded veterans. When the boys come home we shall be more than glad to share with them the best that the garden produces. So plan now for a larger garden, use every foot available and help drive famine from the world.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS

Soldiers and sailors should zealously protect their rights along the line of government insurance after they are discharged from the service. It has come to our notice that many are not availing themselves of the benefits to be derived from this insurance. One of the insurance firms of the city is advertising the fact that advice will be freely and gladly given to anyone along this line and it is an offer that should be accepted by those who have been discharged by the government. It should be emphatically understood that this advice and knowledge is given free and without any obligation to any person and is given with the sole idea of being of some service to those who have served their country. Often times the soldier or sailor is rather backward about taking care of these matters and in this event it behooves his parents, his brothers and sisters or his friends to look after these matters for him or at least bring them to his attention.

ROAD BUILDING

GOOD ROADS 1919 PROGRAM

Michigan Starting on Greatest Era of Highway Construction in History of State.

Michigan is going to put on the greatest era of road building in the state's history, declares Edward N. Hines, first vice president of the Detroit Automobile club. Mr. Hines adds that Michigan highway constructors have seen the folly of their ways in building roads too narrow and of types not permanent. They will correct this in the future.

Every citizen, including the farmer, business man, laboring man and the resident of the small town, sees the need of permanent highways, the cost being paid to them by wartime conditions according to Mr. Hines. This was brought about by the inadequate freight and express service, the food situation and the general need to conserve labor wherever feasible.

"Had the war continued," Mr. Hines stated, "I had records of projects for building of concrete roads in the state that likely would have been put through by the proper authorities in Washington because of their necessity, there being some 650,000 square yards. Other projects for concrete roads in Michigan financed by the Covert act whose issues were sold and the money not expended during the past season, and direct tax has amounted to 1,347,900 square yards, a total for the state of close to 2,000,000 square yards. All of this will be built in 1919 and in all probability this percentage will be doubled by the time the road construction work begins in the spring.

"Wayne county's concrete roads have stood the test since the United States entered the world conflict. The normal traffic, plus the enormous war haulage by army trucks over concrete roads seven, eight, nine and ten years old, was handled satisfactorily and the highways held up in perfect condition. Eyes of the road builders throughout the county have been focused on Wayne county's roads and the practical demonstration of the value of permanent roads has been proven here in the vicinity of Detroit.

"Wayne, leader among the counties of Michigan in mileage of improved roads, asked for no county road tax this year and will have to rely on the money received from automobile license. Consequently 1919 will not approximate previous years' programs because of lack of funds to push the work to the limit. We expect to get more for a dollar in 1919, though, as the labor turnover will not be as great and material prices will have a tendency not to incline towards higher levels.

"Among the projects which will be carried out next year are the following: One-half mile section in the village of Wayne from Michigan avenue on the Wayne road south, connecting with the Huron river drive. This road will be of concrete, 20 feet wide. Belle ville-Romulus branch of the Huron river drive and Outer Belt drive is to be finished. Delivery of stock on this job has already been started and will be kept up as long as good weather continues. Warren road, which will be completed to the Washtenaw county line in time, is to be taken care of by another road crew. This work will go on until the 1919 funds are exhausted. The Lahser road, from Redford north to the Oakland line, connecting with the good road in Oakland county, will also be completed.

"We will pay considerable attention to widening some of the main routes and will maintain all the previous built roads in a first class condition.

Public Necessity
Good roads are a public necessity and there is no use trying to stop people from using them. The state will not stop them from using them.

What Poor Roads Mean
A road that is in poor condition means a loss of time and money for the traveler.

INCREASING DEMAND FOR TIMBER OF ELM

Total Stand Placed at Approximately 7 1/2 Billion Feet

Wood is Desirable Where Strength, Bending Quality and Ability to Withstand Shock Are Concerned—Takes Good Polish.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Elm timber growing in the farm wood lot is a valuable asset.

The demand for elm is increasing, while the supply is rapidly diminishing. It is estimated that the total stand of elm in the United States is approximately 7 1/2 billion feet. This amount would furnish a supply for approximately 30 years at the present rate of cutting, as the annual output of elm lumber is about 24,000,000 board feet, placing elm twelfth in rank among all woods and tenth among hardwoods in point of lumber production.

Elm wood is desirable where strength, bending quality and ability to withstand shocks are required. It is, in general, heavy, hard and strong. The most important use to which it is put, according to the bulletin, is in the cooperage industry, the amount credited to this use being more than twice that of the next in importance, which is in the manufacture of barrels and crates. It is estimated that 147,000,000 board feet are used annually in making cooperage stock or barrels.

Elm is used extensively in making agricultural implements and vehicles also. It is useful in the manufacture of wheels and bodies for automobiles, and the rapid growth of this industry has brought about a considerable increase in the demand for elm. Its ability to take a good polish makes it desirable in the manufacture of certain pieces of furniture, cabinet work and interior trimmings. It is a fairly durable wood the average untreated lumber in situations exposed to weather lasting six to eight years. When properly treated with creosote this period may be lengthened to 20 or more years.

RAISE MORE HOGS FOR MEAT

No Farm Is Complete Without Swine to Assist in Modern Methods of Farming.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Meat for the nation and profits for the farmer can be increased by raising hogs. No farm is complete unless some are kept to aid in the modern method of farming. Swine multiply more rapidly than other farm animals and make greater gains per hundred pounds of concentrated feed consumed.

As a consumer of by-products the hog has no rival.

Hogs might be kept profitably upon a number of farms where they are not found today. As a general proposition, it is safer for the average farmer to handle a small number of hogs in connection with his other farm business.

As much feed as possible for hogs should be raised on the farm, no more feed than is absolutely necessary should be purchased.

Hogs weighing from 200 to 300 pounds are in greatest demand on the market and usually the greatest profit is obtained from selling hogs at these weights. The price realized depends upon the kind of carcass the hog will yield.

RUSSIAN THISTLE OF VALUE

Once Considered Noxious Weed—Now Used for Wintering Stock in New Mexico.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

The Russian thistle, considered one of the most noxious weeds in New Mexico is now declared by many stockmen in that section to be of value as a stock feed. Some farmers in Santa Fe county already have put up large quantities of dried heads of this thistle for wintering stock this season. Its value as a feed was discovered during the first two years of drought when it was the only thing that stood between the live stock of the region and starvation. The county agricultural agent of Santa Fe county is urging the building of silos to be filled with Russian thistle which it is reported, makes excellent silage.

an unexpected windfall. At the outbreak of the war he had on hand a large stock of the flags of all nations, including several hundred American flags, which he had been selling to restaurant keepers to decorate tourist tables. Upon his return home after the demobilization this canny shopkeeper soon found that he could sell the American flags to truckdrivers to decorate their motor trucks. His stock was soon exhausted.

German shopkeepers are amazed at the strange wants of the American souvenir hunters. For instance, they cannot understand why husky dough boys want women's paper corsets, substitutes for shoes manufactured with wooden soles and cloth or paper uppers, paper tablecloths, paper bed sheets and the hundred and one substitutes which the shops have on sale.

One doughboy upset the routine of one of the big stores by trying to buy a suit of women's paper underwear. With a half-dozen words of German and a wealth of appropriate gestures he vainly tried to put over the idea. The whole staff of the store was gathered to watch his antics when a German-speaking soldier entered and came to his aid. The amazement of the crowd was undisguised, but he got the underwear.

Another soldier left a trail of wonderment when he entered a millinery store and came away with one of the women's hats that had been displayed in the window. He explained he wanted to send it to his sister.

Despite their mystification at the needs of the American doughboy, the shopkeepers are rapidly adapting themselves to the new order of things and proving that the trade follows the mark and the pennings, regardless of color of the flag under which it comes.

WHITE HOUSE BEING PUT IN READINESS FOR THE PRESIDENT

By United Press

Washington Feb. 18.—Everything at the White House has been put in tip-top shape for the return of President and Mrs. Wilson.

Although spring isn't here yet, the executive mansion has had its spring house cleaning from top to bottom, and considerable renovating has been done, for the historic house is beginning to show its age. War times have caused the appearance of the President's home to be neglected, and many buckets of paint have been used to keep up the custom, made necessary by our friends, the British, or keeping the White House white.

In the interior of the building, the historic color schemes, such as the blue and the green rooms have now been changed, but just here and there touches have been made to cover up the marks of time. Indicating that President and Mrs. Wilson are planning to resume White House social life, considerable work has been done on the big ball room. The floor has been refinished, new draperies hung, the gold piano "touched up" and tuned and the gorgeous tapestry presented a few months ago by the French government put in place.

Indications also are that the big state dining room, with its Roosevelt trophies of animal heads around the walls once more will be a gathering place of international and national notables. Large tables are ready for it in place of the small one Mrs. Wilson placed there during the war. China fanciers are praising the design Mrs. Wilson selected for the china of the President's room. The dishes have the President's seal in gold in the center with a thin gold band of 48-tons around the edge.

The private apartments of the President have been brightened up. Many of the gifts foreign nations have bestowed on the President will be used to adorn the White House, it is believed, taking places alongside historic gifts and furniture of Washington, Lafayette, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt.

The executive offices have not been forgotten in the cleanup, and the President's office, cabinet room and the offices of Secretary Tamm have received coats of light green and white paint throughout. Even the press room has received its share.

Two chairs are ready for the cabinetroom, for, following custom, each cabinet member takes his chair with him when he resigns. McAdoo has taken his, and the other new chair is to take the place of the one Attorney-General regory will carry away when he steps out, March 4.

ACCOUNTANTS AND AUDITORS NEEDED BY GOVERNMENT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 21.—The government has some big tasks in accounting and auditing on its hands as a result of the war, and is willing to pay good salaries to men and women who are qualified to perform them.

The Income Tax Unit of the bureau of Internal Revenue, treasury department, is in urgent need of 350 traveling auditors and resident auditors for the higher-grade positions, which pay entrance salaries from $3,000 to $4,500 a year.

The Ordnance department of the army needs at once 250 senior cost accountants at entrance salaries from $2,200 to $4,200 a year and 250 junior cost accountants at $1,200 to $2,000 a year.

The Interstate Commerce commission wants 50 examiners of accounts. These are usually appointed at entrance salaries from $1,800 to $2,100 a year the higher-salaried positions, paying from $2,200 to $3,000 a year or more, being filled as a rule by promotion.

All of these positions are open to both men and women, except positions of examiner of accounts in the Interstate Commerce commission, which are open to men only.

The United States Civil Service commission will receive applications for these positions at any time until further notice. Full information and application blanks may be obtained by calling upon the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the customhouse or post office in any important city, or by communicating with the United States Civil Service commission, Washington, D. C.

Applicants will not be assembled for a written examination but will be rated upon their sworn statements in their applications as to education, experience etc., and upon corroborative evidence adduced by the Civil Service commission.

In the latter half of the seventeenth century the greater part of Europe was governed by women. England was ruled by Elizabeth, Scotland by Mary Stuart, Portugal by the infant daughter of Eleanor, Navarre by Queen Jane, Spain by Isabella of Castile and France by Catherine de Medicis.

QUACK, QUACK, QUACK!

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 18.—Ben Woolner, former city attorney, is being sought out by many hunters who wish to inspect his "duckwerfer."

Woolner claims to have originated a method for attracting wild ducks. He allowed a duck to dictate into his phonograph dictating machine, and then installed the machine with its new record near his post in the marsh.

Wild ducks mobilized from all points of the compass when Woolner's duck began squawking and Woolner claims to have shot the legal limit in 15 minutes.

2% on Sales 11% on Investment

Isn't this a reasonable profit?

It is what Swift & Company earned in 1918.

2 cents on each dollar of sales—only a fraction of a cent per pound—was too small to have any noticeable effect on prices.

11% on investment (capital and surplus) means only fair returns to the 25,000 shareholders; they received 8% dividends in 1918.

The 1918 earnings of Swift & Company were equivalent to a profit of only

$212 on Sales of $12,000

Would you be content with that margin of profit in your business?

This and many other interesting and instructive facts are shown in our 1919 Year Book, which will be sent on request. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford truck is really a greater necessity to the farmer than is a team of horses. Certainly it is a greater utility and economy for him. It saves time, it gives prompt and almost unlimited service along the entire line of farm work from carrying milk to marketing the products of the farm. It is not expensive to maintain and has all the Ford simplicity in mechanism that makes it easy to operate. The price, too, is attractive, about the price of a team of horses; $550, without body. f. o. b. Detroit.

SIRUP WILL REPLACE SUGAR

Novel Scheme Being Carried Out in Nebraska Community—Demand Bigger Than Supply.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A scheme to utilize a part of the sorghum crop for making a sugar substitute for human food is being carried out in Douglas county, Nebraska. In one community, through the efforts of the local county agent, six farmers co-operated in purchasing a small sorghum mill, and secured the services of an experienced sorghum-sirup maker. Although the sirup made at this mill is being sold at $1.25 to $1.50 a gallon, present indications are that the demand cannot be met. Five sorghum mills are now in operation in the county.

LEONARDSON'S

The Order Has Been Given

All Winter Goods Must Go

Quite time, there will be two or three months in which we will have intense cold weather, and as a matter of fact, winter clothes will be very much in demand. Nevertheless, certain merchandising rules which we follow invariably, compel us to close out all winter stocks at once. And so the clean up prices are now in full force. We aim to make the clean-up quick, positive and sure. These items give evidence of that.

Two Rummage Sale Specials

BEADED DRESS TRIMMINGS. Some of these were marked to sell at $10 the yard but it's the same as with the cloakings—they've been here too long. You may have your choice as long as they last at, the yard 50c

This Sale of Winter Suits and Coats Has Now Reached A Climax

This is the last sale of Winter suits and coats we will announce this season. As a matter of fact, we don't expect any of them to be on hand by next Saturday night.

We say this sale of coats and suits has reached a climax for the simple reason that there is only a limited number on hand to choose from, that the values are by far the greatest we have offered in months and months, and, most important of all, we have again reduced the prices of practically every garment involved, so as to insure absolute and final sale before the store closes on Saturday.

We have also reached the climax of value-giving, for these garments even at this stage of the season could not be bought at wholesale houses at the prices which now rule.

Skillfully tailored and correctly fashioned, these are suits and coats that you would gladly pay regular price for, even now, if you desire to purchase one.
